FACT

in the ring was the fact that she was placed third. Orinda, a magnificent mare of striking style and action, caught the expert eye, but the judges rated her a trifle too thin for show purposes and placed her second to Miss Emily Bedford's Pattie Palmer, a show ring debitante.

(Special to The Evening World.)

A lively air from the orchestra played havoc with the manners of the lighstrung lot that came out in the ladies' single harness horses class, and there were merriment and nervousness over their antics. Perfect handling had a good deal to do with the easy victory of Mrs. Van Heusen's bay gelding, Sinner, which was put through his paces in splendid style by his owner.

The tandems furnished more excitament, and while the Belfost Club's entry gave the comedy element in appearance and action, Mrs. Gerken and Mr. Howland supplied the picturesque effects always insident to a tandem competition. Both exhibited beautifully matched pairs, and it looked like a close competition, but the judges last little time in awarding Mrs. Gerken's pair the coveted blue ribbon.

A high class of sixteen single harness horses turned out for the opening event. Mr. Vanderbilt's mare, making her initial bow in an American show ring, proved to be a well-knit chestnut mare of fine conformation and perfect in action, though a trille slow-footed. The Fiss, Doerr & Carroll Company showed two attractive horses, one of which, The Fly, carried off the red ribbon. George D, King took the third prize with Dolly Dutton.
